About Local Sightings Film Festival

Northwest Film Forum's annual Local Sightings Film Festival showcases the growing complexity of creative communities in the Pacific Northwest. Featuring a competitive selection of curated shorts and feature film programs, the festival invites regional artists to experiment, break, and remake popular conceptions around filmmaking and film exhibition. Working in conjunction with Pacific Northwest film centers and community partners, Local Sightings uses screenings, panels, workshops, performances, and more to encourage critical discourse around the medium, with an eye towards a regional elevation of the industry.
